

WASHINGTON.

The Latest Developments in the Cabinet Situation.

Washburne Tenders His Resignation as Secretary of State.

Selections Yet to be Made for the Departments of State, War and Treasury.

Boutwell's Chances Go Glum and Griswold and Rawlings Loom Up.

A Radical Caucus Maps Out the Work of the Present Session.

Probable Defeat of the Bill to Repeal the Tenure-of-Office Act.

S.C., S.C., S.C.

[Special Telegraphic Correspondence of the Courier-Journal.]

THE CABINET.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—There is no change in the Cabinet. Mr. Boutwell, who was nominated for the office of the Secretary of the Treasury, but none came, and the body adjourned. The President has not yet decided who will fill the existing vacancy.

THE CHANCES.

Judge Howes has been a worn-in Asbury Park man, making it difficult if not impossible for him to get another job. John C. and Hamilton Fish are named by the outsiders. There is no doubt the name of John A. Griswold has been mentioned in connection with the probable reshaping of the cabinet, but it is probably within the view of the law of 1789 that General Rawlings will shortly succeed Schenck as Permanent Secretary of War.

There is a well-authenticated report that General Rawlings will shortly succeed Schenck as Permanent Secretary of War.

He was born in New York, Revenue Commissioner.

John C. Blair.

Deputy Commissioners, resigned, and all the attachés of the department called to bid him adieu. Blair is a staunch Democrat and his uniform was the only one of all the employes of the department he has seen since the election.

DEPUTY COMPTROLLER OF THE BANK.

will resign at once.

THE WORK CUT OUT.

The President has determined to go to Congress to introduce legislation to put back into effect those which shall include the consideration of bills only.

Blair is a staunch Democrat and his uniform was the only one of all the employes of the department he has seen since the election.

THE TENURE-OF-OFFICE REPEAL.

Washington, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to repeal the tenor-of-office law to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has appointed James T. Ely, of Chicago, private short-hand secretary of his office, to succeed Mr. Boutwell.

George L. Lippard, of Pennsylvania, an attorney of Congress, has been appointed First Assistant Postmaster General.

Colonel Edward A. Stearns, and W. E. Reynolds, of Chicago, are the prominent candidates for the office of postmaster of that city, and indications favoring Eason's appointment.

THE TENURE-OF-OFFICE REPEAL.

Washington, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of 30 to 25.

Mr. Boutwell has been supported by friends of his, though he has been defeated in this respect.

THE SECRETARY'S RESUME.

The President has accepted his resignation to-day as Secretary of State. It is accepted, and a new nomination will be made to the Senate to-morrow.

[To the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Boutwell has tactfully and tactfully referred to the House to refer to the Committee on the Judiciary by a vote of

